FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE

USEFUL BEAUTY.

Says Socrates: "The beautiful cannot help being the useful." So St. Nicholas, every year, looks more and more coldly at the useless things and warmly greets the useful beauty.

Suggestions of things he is choosing. Burgomaster Chairs—genuine Dutch affairs; rush-seated, broad-armed, rail-backed—as picturesque as ever you saw, and most comfortable you ever sat in. Capital for the owner of a den. Colonial "Steps" (such as our great-grandmothers used for displaying their treasured bits of china) alone, or with the quaint "high-boy" underneath them. If you choose. Delightful for music hunters and china lovers. Toilet glasses (for the dressing table top), inlaid and carved beauties in Louis XV., XVI., Sheraton Colonial, Empire styles. Each has its mirror—with frame and supports. Not a fastidious lady in the land but would be charmed with such a gift.
